

Culture Club

Don't miss out: our hot list for your leisure pleasure

FILM It is officially Chanel season: Audrey Tautou is utterly divine in Coco avant Chanel – the Breton T-shirts, the pearls, the boaters... we are living for it. Hugh Dancy is heartbreakingly good in Adam, as a young man with Asperger's syndrome. TV Fresh from Martina Cole's mega-successful The Take, Tom Hardy and Charlotte Riley are back together in moor-belting Wuthering Heights (ITV1). MUSIC Pixie Geldof crew member and general cool cat Remi Nicole releases her second album Cupid Shoot Me (Island Records) – think The Supremes in Camden. And the Arctic Monkeys have grown up and sprouted a whole lot of hair while creating their stonking third album

Humbug (Domino). BOOK Ariel Leve's The Cassandra Chronicles (£12.99, Portobello) is perfect for le crunch – who needs to be upbeat when negativity is this entertaining? Finally, the excellent Tracy Chevalier releases Remarkable Creatures (£15.99, HarperCollins), the story of 19th-century fossil hunter Mary Anning.

Top, Tom Hardy and Charlotte Riley in Wuthering Heights; above, Audrey Tautou in Coco avant Chanel; below, Rose Byrne and Hugh Dancy in Adam

Above left, the Arctic Monkeys; above, Remi Nicole and, left, new tomes from Tracy Chevalier and Ariel Leve

Hot talent Paloma Faith

The busy gal's debut album is out in September, then catch her in The Imaginarium of Dr Parnassus.

IT'S ALL ABOUT...

Treading the boards...

Check out our Brit girls getting thespy in a host of new shows

Who: Anna Friel

Starring role: Holly Golightly in Breakfast at Tiffany's. We've got all our digits crossed for this one. Can we please get $50 for the powder room so we can go?

Where: Theatre Royal Haymarket, London SW1 (020 7930 8890), from 9 September.

Who: Sheridan Smith

Starring role: funny girl (and James Corden's other half) Sheridan is buoying up her lungs to play Elle in the musical version of Legally Blonde. Yup – musical. It should be a camp delight.

Where: Savoy Theatre, London WC2 (0870 134 8787), from 5 December.

Who: Sienna Miller

Starring role: Sienna's getting stuck into serious stuff on Broadway, starring in Patrick Marber's After Miss Julie opposite Jonny Lee Miller.

Where: American Airlines Theatre, New York (00 1 212 719 9393), from 18 September. ■

